

MITCHEL MEMORIAL TO BE DETERMINED BY THE PUBLIC

Permanent Organization To Have Future Handling of Fund
Now Near $18,000.

The World's fund for a fitting memorial to Major John Purroy Mitchel will be taken up by representative citizens of all classes, and the character of the monument to be erected will be determined by the general public, whose Mayor he was.

This was determined at a luncheon to-day, given by The World in the Baltimore Hotel, to which some of the most intimate friends and admirers of the late Mayor were invited. A Committee of Organization was appointed, with Cleveland H. Dodge as Chairman and the following members: George McAneny, Robert Adamson, Ralph Pulitzer, Henry Morgenthau, John Mitchell and Alfred B. Smith.

The committee was empowered to invite men from all walks of life to a mass meeting to be held at the City Hall, the date of which will be named later. A permanent organization will be effected at this convention which will have the future handling of the fund, and will determine the location and character of the memorial. The movement will be a city-wide one.

Those who attended the luncheon to-day were the following: Cleveland H. Dodge, Robert Adamson, Jacob H. Schiff, Lamar Harby, Theodore Rousseau, Hon. George V. Mulien, E. H. Outerbridge, John Mitchell, George W. Perkins, William G. Wilcox, John J. French, Alfred E. Smith, William Hamilton Childs, Sara A. Lewashin, Nathaniel Phillips, John G. Aker, George T. Wilson, Con. Barber, Ralph Pulitzer, George McAneny.

Those who were invited and were unable to attend were Herbert F. Gunnison, Frank L. Dowling, Clarence H. Mackay and Henry Morgenthau. At noon to-day the fund total stood at $17,781.40. Before the day is over it is expected to pass the $18,000 mark.

Walter Delvalle of No. 541 East 135th Street sent his $1 and a tribute to the dead Mayor.

"It is a great opportunity The World offers to the public to honor the memory of our ex-Mayor, whose brilliant personality and splendid character were of the finest," he wrote. "His loss will be lamented by all who admired his sterling qualities."

Though Sunday's mail is always light, $143.70 was added to the fund. Cav. Carlo Barzotti, editor and manager of the Italian daily newspaper Il Progresso Italo-Americano, gave $100 and pledged his journal to give wide publicity to The World's initiative so that all citizens of Italian extraction, "who always held the late Mayor in esteem and respect, may pay to his memory their lasting tribute."

B. D. Traill of the Traill Marble Company, Long Island City, gave $50 and wrote that he never made any contribution that gave him more satisfaction. Two Brooklyn boys, twins, sent a dime each, writing that "we are doing this so when we grow up we can say with pride that we subscribed for New York's greatest Mayor."

Julius P. Storm, a recent contributor, suggests a "Mitchel Memorial

Memorial to Major Mitchel, U. S. R., Late Mayor of the City of New York

The World suggests a great popular subscription for a suitable, worthy memorial to Major John Purroy Mitchel, U. S. R., Aviation Corps, for four years Mayor of New York City, by which the city, honoring a hero, will also honor itself. To this end The World subscribes $1,000.

The World, both morning and evening editions, will gladly receive and acknowledge contributions of any sum for this purpose.

All contributions should be addressed to the Mitchel Memorial Fund, The World, No. 63 Park Row, New York, N. Y. Contributions will be acknowledged in the columns of The World and The Evening World from day to day.

MEXICANS HOLD AMERICANS

Bandits Demand Ransom for Two Captives.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., July 22.—Two Americans were captured by Mexican bandits, headed by Felipe Munoz, and are being held for ransom in the Sierra Mountains. It was made known here to-day. One of the men is Naw Malone, foreman of the Pedra de Blanca Ranch, for whom $5,000 is asked, and the other is Sam Harkdale, taken at Hacienda San Miguel, 45 miles from Las Vacas. Mexican troops are in pursuit of the bandits.

MANY SUGGESTIONS MADE BY CONTRIBUTORS ON FORM OF MITCHEL MEMORIAL

Wide Range of Ideas Submitted by Evening World Readers for Consideration.

FOLLOWING are a few of the many suggestions received by The World as to the form the Mitchel Memorial should take:

Nicholas Murray Butler—Income from the fund to go to Mrs. Mitchel for life; thereafter to be devoted to instruction in municipal affairs with a view to perpetuating the influence and ideals which Mr. Mitchel represented in the city.

Herbert Adams, sculptor—A reviewing stand in Madison Square.

Theodore Rousseau, Mayor Mitchel's private secretary—Something of real benefit to the people, as, for instance, public baths.

E. H. Gary—Fund invested for Major Mitchel's family; second, a monument in Central Park.

Robert Adamson, former Fire Commissioner—A monument of imposing design, so situated as to be seen daily by thousands.

Lamar Hardy, former Corporation Counsel—Something as important as Grant's Tomb.

Cass Gilbert, architect—A water gate at the Battery or an arch in Bowling Green or a statue in City Hall Park. Possibly a scholarship at Columbia, with some outdoor memorial there in addition.

Augustus Lukeman, Secretary National Sculpture Society—A war fountain set in the wall of Morningside Park.

The Rev. Dr. Christian Reiser—A monument of Mayor Mitchel placed in the heart of the city as an inspiration to the city boy.

F. Wellington Ruckstall, sculptor—A monument commemorating the services of all New York State aviators fallen in service.

WOMAN WHO SCALDED NIECE SENT TO PRISON

Jury's Recommendation for Mercy
Saves Her From Long Sing Sing
Term, Says Judge.

Mrs. Mary Grant, No. 291 Oakland Street, Brooklyn, found guilty of assault in the second degree for having poured scalding water on Helen Mullin, fifteen, her niece, was committed to the penitentiary to-day by Judge McDermott in the County Court in Brooklyn. This means a term of from three months to three years.

"Had the jury not recommended mercy in your case," said Judge McDermott, "I would send you away to Sing Sing for two years and a half. But their plea has saved you from that punishment. The crime of which you stand convicted is the cruellest of which I have heard during my experience as Judge in this court, and that you were guilty I have not the slightest doubt."

Mrs. Grant protested her innocence and Judge McDermott said he regarded her story of the scalding as ridiculous and observed that the jury evidently felt the same way.

MONEY BOX FAKE FOUND MANY DUPES ONE LOST $40,000

Carpenter Who Made Them
Says He Did Not Know Their Purpose.

Charged with manufacturing "money-making boxes" that are believed to have taken more than $200,000 from the pockets of victims throughout the country, John Markewitz was placed on trial to-day before Judge Mulqueen and a jury in General Sessions.

One completed box and six others in the process of manufacture were exhibited in court. They are highly polished and fitted with elaborate handles and levers. Assistant District Attorney Rorke declared the alleged victims were told that by placing a number of bills in the box double the amount would come forth. The operation took place in the dark rooms. The money was placed in the box, a green light flashed, electric batteries hummed and then a bundle of paper, covered by one genuine bank note, was handed to the victim.

Mr. Rorke told the court that the band which used the boxes was organized on a country-wide basis. Witnesses from many cities were called to testify regarding the workings of the scheme. One man from Scranton, Pa., was said to have given $40,000 to the swindlers and another from Chicago lost $30,000. Smaller amounts were obtained in New York and other cities among the ignorant, although the trick has been exposed many times.

Markewitz is a carpenter and has a shop at No. 234 East 63d Street. His defense is that he did not know what uses the boxes were put to by the men for whom he constructed them. He was arrested on April 26. The charge against him is conspiracy to commit grand larceny.

Four men accused of the actual operation of the swindle were convicted last week and are now awaiting sentence.

ALL CHINESE LOOK ALIKE AND DETECTIVES ARE SAD

Thirty-three Chinamen are congratulating themselves over their ironing boards this morning, and detectives Clarke and McCrohan of the First District are cursing their luck, all because Chinese look so much alike.

The detectives, accompanied by patrolmen, went to No. 23 Bowery last night, tipped up several flights of steps, listened at the keyhole of a room, heard Oriental voices distinctly swearing "Him no cum seven," then smashed in the door.

Later the police fined up the thirty-three men found in the room before arrested as they walked away with it. Magistrate Nolan in Night Court. They specifically charged four by name with

LAUNDRY MARK ON OLD RAG JAILS TWO AS CRACKSMEN

Detective in Jersey Safe Blowing
Case Traces Alleged Burglars
by Slender Clue.

Detective O'Brien of Elizabeth, N. J., has a fixed belief that criminals always leave their mark. It was because of this conviction on the part of O'Brien that Samuel Friedman and Jacob Berman, both of No. 432 East Houston Street, were taken to the Jefferson Market Court this morning for arraignment on charges of possessing burglar's tools. A wife was ripped in Elizabeth a month ago and O'Brien, looking for a "mark," found an old rag. It proved to be part of a shirt, and there was a laundry mark. O'Brien decided it came from New York. So he came over here and got Detectives Oliver, Fenelly and Hoffman to help him. They traced the mark and learned that the shirt had belonged to Friedman, who has a long burglary record and was released recently on parole after serving seven years of a thirty-one year sentence.

Friedman was watched. He and Herman went out one evening with a bundle which they "planted" in an alley. The bundle and the men were watched. Last night the men took the bundle from the cache and they were arrested as they walked away with it. It contained, the police say, a complete outfit of safe-ripping tools.
